Highway 41 to be widened in 1990

Edmonton - The Honourable Al "Boomer" Adair, Minister of Alberta Transportation and Utilities, and John Drobot, MLA for St. Paul, have announced construction work planned for Highway 41 north of Elk Point.

Mr. Adair said: "The existing narrow surface on Highway 41 between Elk Point and the junction with Highway 28 will be grade widened and based paved for about 6.4 kilometres to a modern two-lane standard."

Mr. Drobot said: "The work on Highway 41 will support the heavy traffic associated with the petroleum and agricultural industries in this area."

All construction work is scheduled to be complete this fall.

Chamber of Commerce

Late night shopping up to merchants

Whether to offer extended shopping hours on Friday nights this summer in Elk Point will be up to each individual business, it was decided at last Wednesday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Members agreed that, while some businesses do benefit from staying open additional hours, others do not find it worthwhile to do so, and looking back at their track records in previous years, do not plan to be open on Friday evenings this year.

In celebration of National Tourism Awareness Week, May 13 to 19, the Chamber has planned a Tourism Coffee Party to be held in the Empress Banquet Room on Wednesday, May 16 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.. The general public is invited to drop by for coffee, view the new Lakeland Tourist Association Zone video, pick up a copy of the new "Discover Lakeland" publication and a new road map, and get set for a great summer in the Lakeland.

The Chamber will soon be offering post cards for sale to their members for resale in businesses, as well as to the general public at the Tourist Information Centre. Samples of the bright new card, bearing photos of the historical mural, the Fort George Museum, an elk on a local game farm, and the Chamber logo, were passed around to an admiring membership at Wednesday's meeting.

The Chamber was introduced to the new representative of Alberta Economic Development and Trade in St. Paul, Walter DeSilva. DeSilva replaces Brent Kolodychuk in that department.

Elk Point Golf and Country

Club President Ed Buck asked the Chamber for support in that Club's new project of obtaining grass greens for their nine hole course, as this would be a tourism asset in the community. The Chamber agreed to voice support of the project, especially in the area of obtaining grant funding for the project.

After much discussion, the Chamber agreed to make a donation toward a project spearheaded by the St. George's Masonic Lodge, who hope to present each Elementary School student in Elk Point with a ticket to the Shrine Circus performance in Bonnyville later this month. It is hoped that by showing the circus organizers the sizeable number of interested persons in this area, we might be able to attract the show to come here some year in the near future. Proceeds from the Shrine Circus go to various projects such as a burn treatment unit and the Northern Alberta Children's Hospital.

PTA meets tonight!

F. G. Miller High School Parent Teacher Association will meet this evening at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria. A presentation by a representative of the School Board regarding Separate French Schools and requests from the Francophone parents in the school division, and how this affects us, is scheduled. Also, there will be a follow-up to last meeting's report on proposed cutbacks.

Elk Point 4-Hers Pitch In

Elena Drobot (left) and Shelley Bespalko were among the members of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club who turned out to clean the roadsides along Highway 41 south of Elk Point last Saturday as part of the annual Highway Clean-Up Campaign by 4-H members, Junior Forest Wardens and other youth groups all over the province.

Ukrainian Dance Concert an outstanding success

A capacity crowd filled the F. G. Miller Auditorium last Tuesday evening for what must surely have been the most spectacular and well executed concert in the eleven year history of the Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club. From the eight tiny Pre-Beginners to the eleven adult dancers, each group gave the audience their very finest interpretation of the colorful, traditional dances of the Ukraine.

Two visitors from Czechoslovakia, Marion Puhak and Andrew Ference, were warmly welcomed as an addition to the program, with their melodious songs of the Old Country. The pair are visiting their cousins, Steve and Olga Ference, in the Elk Point area.

The dancing began just after 7:00 p.m., with the ceremonial welcoming offer of the bread and salt, as the entire cast of the show took part in the Pryveet Montage. The Junior Mixed group then entertained with the jovial movements of the Coloveyka, unconscious of their possible fates of adulthood. The quick steps and fast tempo of the Hutzulka were ably performed by the Intermediate Mixed dancers.

Four regions of the Ukraine, Bukovina, Hutzul, Poltavski and Transcarpathian, were represented in a "Regional Quartet," with Margaret Bayduza, Beverly Hillebrand, Lori Porcina and Melanie Malachowski dressed to represent the regions, and showing the particular dance steps of each in this unique number.

Three young Kozaks, Sheldon Porcina, Michael Estey and Stephen Bayduza, showed off their difficult steps, each trying to outdo the other as they fairly flew through their routines.

Two members of the Intermediate group, Robyn Danyluk and Raegan Croteau, were next to perform, with number called "Dancing Friends." Each wears the costume and does the steps of a different region, but in their hearts realize that these differences do not make them so unlike that they cannot be friends.

The lively movements of the Rachiwchanko were performed by the Senior Girls, dressed in flowered skirts and headscarves, with their leather slippers moving swiftly to this dance from the Transcarpathian region, with synchronized head and foot movements.

A joyous dance of spring by the Beginners was displayed in the Diotochnay Tanok, as boys and girls danced away their Spring Fever.

The eleven ladies of the Adult group gathered together to show off what they have learned this season, with the measured movements of the Visna.

The youngest members of the group, the Pre-Beginners, were then introduced, as they portrayed the free spirits of the wind of the Ukraine in the Bavete.

The Carpatia found the cosacks sleeping in the morning mist, unaware of the beautiful maidens who surrounded them. However, they soon arose to join in this Hutzul dance, which concluded the first half of the concert.

During the brief intermission, a number of ladies who assist the Ukrainian Dance Club with their pyrohy making projects were honored, with Dance Club shirts given to each of the 'babas' for their many hours of volunteer labor.

An imaginative duet dance started off the second half, with Lori and Sheldon Porcina as a pair of dancing dolls who come to life in the midst of a giant pile of stuffed animals.

A charming and lighthearted Harvest Dance was performed by the Junior Mixed group, who showed how the boys and girls enjoy themselves after a hard day of work. The Intermediate Mixed group followed with a fast-paced Kozachuk, which in turn was followed by the Beginners with the Koitochko, in which the boys teasingly steal the girls' baskets of flowers, but are forgiven because of their handsome faces.

The evening's only solo was by Kathy Kozina, who performed the very colorful Kerchief Dance.

Elk Point caps and pins were presented to the two Czechoslovakian visitors, when they returned to sing another two selections, again accompanied by Gabrielle Bayduza on accordion.

The tall feathered headdresses and high stepping movements of the Holubar, a dance of the Bukovian people, were shown by the Seniors, with the boys lifting their partners high in the air at the conclusion of the dance.

The Sword Dance showed Tommy Bayduza and Leslie Hillebrand as two daring young Kozacks preparing for the hardships to be encountered in war. The Intermediate girls followed with the soft patterned movements of the graceful Poppy Dance.

A second appearance by the Adult dancers showed their hard work at learning the steps and rousing rhythms of the Kolomeyka.

Even the instructors showed their talents. Ken Rylance, fetchingly attired in beribboned and beflowered headdress and whirling skirts, and Debbie Kachmar as the mustachioed cossack, thrilled the audience with their dancing prowess which showed through the hilarious comedy of their act.

The final dance of the concert left absolutely no doubt in the minds of the audience why Elk Point's Senior dancers had brought home a wealth of gold medals from the Prince Albert Ukrainian Dance Festival, as they gave a faultless and thrilling performance of the Hopak.

All dancers were then called on stage for the presentation of certificates and plaques commemorating their year's work. Margaret Bayduza, Jodi Vogel and Linda Shmyr were especially honored, receiving 10-year pins on their plaques. Gifts were presented to the four dancers who will graduate from high school this year: Linda Shmyr, Margaret Bayduza, Michael Estey and Sheldon Porcina.

In Our View

Keep it clean

Communities across Canada will be tidying up their various parts of the landscape this week, in an all-out effort to improve their environment during Pitch-In Week 1990.

Here in Alberta, more than 1400 organizations will be participating in conservation, recycling and environmental clean-up programs. In our own area, 4-H members spent last Saturday scouring the ditches on a lengthy stretch of Highway 41 south of Elk Point, while other groups had plans for other clean-up projects in and around town.

Many of the groups involved this year will be separating the material they collect into recyclable and non-recyclable piles, in a new trend toward environmental awareness. The 4-Hers have always extracted bottles and beverage cans, and returned them for the deposit, which they then add to their club treasury.

Tourism Awareness Week

Historical Society plans Open House

Just what is the role of the Elk Point Historical Society in the community? What's this about a mural park? What's going on out at the fort site?

To answer these questions and more, the Historical Society is planning an Information Night for next Wednesday, May 16, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Elk Point Public Library Program Room.

Plans for the Mural Park and the Buckingham House-Fort George development will be displayed, along with artifacts from the Society's archives and albums picturing previous Whoever does the cleaning, they, even more than the rest of the community, will view the completed project with pride in a job well done. But imagine their dismay if they travel through the same area a few days later and find potato chip bags, fried chicken boxes and pop cans already littering their landscape. At one year's highway cleanup, one of the items found was a newspaper from the first Wednesday after the previous cleanup. This really makes the cleaning crew feel like their efforts have been in vain.

Groups, organizations and individuals have done, and are doing, an immense amount of work to clean up the country so it is a more pleasant place for all of us to enjoy. It is up to us to do our part to keep it that way. Please pitch in, this week and all year, and make YOUR part of the human race environmentally friendly.

Alberta Trails

Expecting results

By Irene Magnusson
Alberta Trails

By the time I've been on my knees for the many hours it takes to prune my raspberry patch, I feel I have a right to expect something. If I spent the ten or twelve hours praying, surely I should expect miracles? But, alas, I am not much for praying, and the little I do is not from a kneeling position — so forget the miracles. I DO expect a crop of berries from my bushes.

This task is sometimes undertaken in the fall, and perhaps at that time the canes might be a little less stiff and bristly — I don't know, as I've always done mine in the spring. My reasoning says leave as much stuff there as possible, over-winter, so when the rabbits and porcupines come to dine, there may still be some bushes left for production in the spring. Also, they are good at catching the snow as it scurries past, chased by the winds of winter. Strangely, no porcupines came this year.

I started in the evening, and accomplished about a quarter of the task before my knees and legs screamed for mercy. It will be evening again before I finish, but just now I am leaving it for a while, as the sun is blasting down, a rash 82°F (or as the Celsius will have it plus 28°C), and my body is simply not used to working outside in that sort of a heatwave — yet. Later on, we adjust to this.

All sorts of thoughts go wandering by, out there in the solitude, under the blue, blue sky. Over in the swamp a woodpecker drums away; must be a large one, as he is making quite a clatter. Some bird I haven't identified yet, is monotonously carrying on his quest for company, or perhaps staking out his territory. Closer in, a chickadee gives a few soft chirps, nothing serious in mind, I take it.

Tractors hum, off in the distant fields, and off and on a vehicle roars by, rolling up its dust-tail, result of the road maintainer passing by a few days ago.

Resting my neck for a moment, I lift my eyes up to the catkinladen poplars that hang over the periphery of my garden and yard, where their little silvery tassels sway gently in the almost non-existent motion of the air. One feather-like morsel lets loose its hold, and flutters, almost as a tiny canoe moving slowly over clear blue water, gently drifting down the sky, to lose itself in the dry leaves and grass below.

No leaves show on the aspens in my yard, although there is a green tinge to the maples and lilacs, and the tips of white are visible on the saskatoon bushes. In this warm air, they cannot stay hidden long, and I will expect to see some by tomorrow. Wherever the grass has been cut, there is green, the lilies, hollyhocks and columbines are making great strides, while fat buds are popping out on the golden elder tree.

Of wild flowers, so far I've seen crocuses (almost finished), dandelions (never finished) and buttercups. I'm almost certain there are violets out, and several white blooms show in the strawberry patch.

Around noon, I heard the distant 'creek-creek' of cranes. I don't know why they always over-fly my farm, perhaps they are drawn by the water — such a tiny bit now — of the small lake north of my fields, named for my Grandfather, who homesteaded its surrounding land all those years ago. At any rate, I couldn't see the flock, for the overhanging trees, so went off to the meadow, where I had command of a larger patch of sky. There they were, far up, and far off, V on V, overlapped, hundreds, or perhaps thousands, heading off into the northwest, making their little squeaky creaky sounds. I was back in bygone years, when I might be in the field, disking or harrowing, whatever, and look up and see the untold numbers of migrating birds, circling high, to gain

Lioness Tip

Environment Friendly Pest Controls that you can make from the kitchen and potting shed:

Slugs love to congregate under a board on the ground. Leave a couple in the garden. Flip them over every morning, scoop up the slugs and drown them in some soapy water or boiling water.

Slugs and snails are also partial to warm, stale beer. Put in a shallow dish in the garden and watch them die happy.

To post "keep out" signs for ants, sprinkle a line of paprika, red chili powder, dried peppermint, or cream of tartar across their entrance.

Vegetable gardens can be protected from nighttime assaults by rabbits and groundhogs by planting rows of garlic and chives around them.

You can make your own pesticide by chopping rhubarb leaves and brewing them in boiling water. These leaves, like the leaves of oleander, contain toxic oxalic acid. Rhubarb leaves, in fact, are about the deadliest poison in your garden. The brew you distill from them is a concentrated poison, so make very certain none of the "tea" you produce is left where children might mistake it for a beverage.

For another natural pesticide spray, throw some garlic and green onion tops in your blender or food processor. Strain this puree and mix the juice with soapy water. Pour into an old pump spray container.

altitude, flock over flock, against the clouds, or the blue sky, all with one purpose, the spring migration to distant lands.

As I watched the now tiny Vs disappear, a closer pair of wings caught my eye, as a large red-tailed hawk soared up from below the barn, tracing tight circles above the trees and field, sharp eyes watching for movement of gopher or mouse.

I returned to my kneeling task, wondering why I bother; but I know. This is my 'crop', which I have cared for these many years. Surely I don't need so many berries, much as I love them, but it gives me pleasure to share them with others, and to know I can still coax something good and worthwhile from the soil I am in charge of. One year, soon, I will have to abandon them.

I remember Mother, how she loved to walk in my garden and feast from those bushes. Aunt Jennie, too, but she put hers in a dish, and feasted later. Then there was Uncle Harold, who found berry-picking a challenge, and wouldn't stop until he was soaked to the skin, when a summer shower slid up the sky. And all the kids who love to eat 'em, but hate to pick 'em. And the berries, themselves, flushed with juice, so red, so round — so delicious, floating in cream, or on the shelf in their gleaming jars. The scent of the jam cooking, or smothering a slice of breakfast toast ... my mouth waters. I am hooked. Even the wild ones, we once so relentlessly pursued, a quarter the size of these in my garden, were delicious and well worth the chase.

So when the sun sinks behind the spruce, I'll don my stiff gloves again, go back to my supplicant position, determined to finish that patch by nightfall. After which, I will stagger painfully to bed, while visions of red, ripe raspberries dance in my head.

SENIOR CITIZENS' WEEK

Senior Citizens Week, June 3-9, 1990, is not far away. The Seniors' Advisory Council for Alberta has established a new theme for the fifth annual Senior Citizens' Week. It simply states that Seniors are a strength of Alberta. To further promote this idea Saturday, June 9 has tentatively been set aside for an open house.

The aim of the open house will be to promote understanding of Senior Citizens in our community, to recognize the contribution that older people make within the community, and to honor the Senior Citizens in the community. For these reasons, we are currently looking for senior citizens who are interested in helping to make the open house a success: a success for Seniors, and a success for the community. Seniors who have a particular area of expertise and would be willing to share their information with the public are asked to contact Tracy at the Community Services Centre, 724-3800.

Senior Citizens are a natural resource and deserve to receive proper acknowledgement of that fact. Having a successful open house will allow for such acknowledgement as community members will realize the abundance of information and advice available through Seniors.

Fair Board laying plans

By Irene Magnusson

The first full meeting of the Fair Board under chairmanship of Verona Lea Flanders was called for Thursday, May 3, at 7:30 p.m., at the Library, with nine members present. A brief report of the October meeting was reviewed.

Revised pages of the Elk Point Fair booklet were reviewed, and the changes noted. Some additions were made, a few deleted, in the lists of eligible entries to the Fair. Exhibitors should read the book carefully, when it becomes available, and note any changes that may apply to their entries.

After discussion, it was decided to retain the Elk Point logo for the cover of the Booklet. Lists of sponsors will be updated. In some places, more instructions will be given. Note may be taken that there will now be two or three pages of space to list entries, and these will also be used to list winners.

Some thoughts were given to the 'ecology' move, stressing less use of plastic articles. Pottery cups and dishes will be used, where possible, rather than foamware.

The group decided to set up a 'social fund', to cover costs of coffee at meetings, etc., by each Committee member contributing a set amount annually, the decision being to start with $5 per member.

Of special note was the date of the 1990 summer Fair, which will be August 10, (entries and judging) and August 11, viewing by the public, these being Friday and Saturday respectively. Announcement will be made when the Fair Book is ready — watch for it.

middle of the F. G. Miller High School gymnasium, with the smaller viewers seated cross-legged on tumbling mats along either side of the action, and adults on rows of chairs behind them. A massive chest of props and a foot-propelled 'motor' car shared the central stage with Quest performers Declan O'Reilly, Karen Johnson and Barbara Gates Wilson, and stage manager Lisa Goueffic. The play was directed by Duval Lang.

Munsch's script took excerpts from several of his very popular children's books, and combined them into an exciting and very entertaining play. The saga of the snowsuited child who decides, on becoming totally bundled up for outdoor play, that a bathroom stop is essential, the story of the little girl with the reluctant-to-part-company loose tooth, a memorable birthday party, a father who is a giant, and the auto trip dilemma of no place to "go," were all a part of the evening. Audience participation was encouraged, and the youngsters in the audience had plenty of advice to offer the performers as each portion of the story unfolded.

The evening was sponsored by Norcen Energy Resources Limited, Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism, and the Elk Point Public Library, and was a huge success.

Props A-plenty

A grove of trees, a foot-powered motor car, and a huge trunkful of treasures turned the F. G. Miller gymnasium floor into a giant stage for the Quest Theatre performance.

Walk for sight

By Billie Milholland

Almost $2500 was raised by 23 walkers in the Elk Point and District Lions Club Walk For Sight last Saturday, with the oldest walker of the group, Olga Tomkow, 59, also collecting the largest amount of pledges. Mrs. Tomkow's pledge sheet totalled over $600, which exceeded the Oil Patch Challenge winner from Pan Canadian Petroleum by more than $50.

The youngest walker to take part was 5-year-old Garnett Lett.

The enthusiastic group, which included 9 members of the Elk Point Scouting Association, walked the 10 kilometre route in less than two hours, with first finisher Lee Wannechko, who took home the 'First Male Finisher' trophy, completing the course in one hour and 12 minutes, and the 'First Female Finisher,' Lorna Peterson, coming in just four minutes later. The School Challenge trophy went to the Elk Point Elementary School.

What's new at the library?

"Quest Theatre", sponsored by the Elk Point Public Library, Norcen Energy Resources and Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism, performed "Snowsuits, Birthdays and Giants" last Thursday evening at the F.G. Miller High School with great success. Robert Munsch wrote the play combining five of his own stories. The characters include Moira from "Moira's Birthday" and David from "David's Father". The play, directed by Duval Lang with professional actors and actresses, all from Calgary, was enchanting. The audience of 150 children and adults participated, laughed and thoroughly enjoyed this very fast-paced entertaining performance. Thanks goes out to Mike O'Neill and his students for setting out the chairs and mats for the performance.

As a tie-in at storytime the following morning Librarian, Doreen Mayner, went through the book "Moira's Birthday" with the 23 children present. More stories and the puppet show "The Hare and the Tortoise" were presented.

A newly donated book to the library is "Racewalking" by William Finley. Racewalking is a safe and healthy alternative to running or jogging. Illustrated how to achieve good racewalking form.

Videos: Explore the strange and mysterious world with the National Geographic. Explore the "Land of the Tiger". A rare and fascinating study of the enormous jungle cats, this video features spectacular footage of tigers stalking their prey, caring for their young, swimming, playing and fighting, as well as glimpses of the other animals with which the tiger shares its domain. Approximate time: 60 minutes.

The 1933 political satire, "Duck Soup" is the 4 Marx Brothers' funniest and most insane film containing many of the Brothers' famous sequences, the most famous being the mirror sequence that has since been copied by everyone from Woody Allen to Mad Magazine. Approximate time: 1 hr. 10 min.

We had lots of requests for this newly arrived music cassette in the library, k.d. lang and The Reclines, "Absolute Torch and Twang". Be among the first to borrow it! Also new in the music cassette collection, performed by Dirty Rotten Filthy Stinking Rich, is "Warrant".

Several books donated are: Blood and Iron: There Will Be War, Vol. III, by J.E. Pournelle; The Last Princess by Cynthia Freeman, Antares Dawn, a novel by Michael McCollum, Lee Iacocca's Talking Straight by Lee Iacocca, Share of Honor by Ralph Graves, and Taking the Quantum Leap: The new physics for nonscientists, by Fred Alan Wolf.

Re: Preschool Booster

A booster for diptheria, pertussis (whooping cough), tetanus and polio is due for most children before they enter Early Childhood Services (ECS). (This is the same immunization that was given at 2, 4, 6 and 18 months of age). Clinic days will be May 15 and 16, from 9:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 4:00.

Please bring your child's record to be updated when you come. If you have any questions, please contact your Health Unit Office at 724-3532.
